- Continuous evaluation (60%). This part values the constant effort and active participation of the student in the different activities proposed during the course, such as discussions, resolution of cases, readings, and presentations, developed individually or in groups.
- Final exam (40%). A grade of 2 out of 4 total points in the final exam is required for the rest of the marks to be added so and the course can be passed. In case a lower grade is obtained, a new exam can be done at the extraordinary period. It should also be graded higher than 2 out of 4 points in order to add the rest of the scores.
