

WELCOME TO CARBON 2018, WELCOME TO SPAIN

The Spanish Carbon Group (GEC) has the pleasure to invite you to the World Conference on Carbon. CARBON 2018 will take place in Madrid.

The Conference aims to provide an innovative and comprehensive overview of the latest research developments on carbon science and applications. We trust that you will enjoy the Conference and that the interaction with colleagues worldwide will stimulate a creative exchange of ideas.

We also hope you enjoy your visit to Madrid, a cosmopolitan and friendly city with enjoyable day and night life. It is known for its rich historic, cultural and artistic heritage, as well as its traditional cuisine. The city has an efficient public transportation network and Madrid-Barajas Airport has direct and connecting flights to all points around the world.
