FACULTAD DE DERECHO
 UNIVERSIDAD AUTÓNOMA DE MADRID

Founded in 1968, the Autonomous University of Madrid (UAM) is a public university with approximately 30,000 students. The main campus in Cantoblanco, located 15 kilometers from the center of Madrid, has excellent public transport connections with the city. The Cantoblanco campus houses seven faculties (Sciences, Law, Humanities, Psychology, Economics and Business Administration, Education and Teacher Training, and the Higher Polytechnic School), several research institutes and a number of centers associated to the Spanish National Research Council (CSIC). The Faculty of Medicine as well as the Schools of Nursing, Physiotherapy and Primary Teacher Training are located in different installations around Madrid. In 2009 the UAM was awarded the title Campus of International Excellence.

The Cantoblanco campus offers a wide range of services, including numerous libraries and documentation centers, refectories and restaurants, shops, sports facilities, with both an outdoor and an indoor pool, and a Language Center. Students, teaching staff, researchers and visitors alike have access to accommodation in the halls of residence located on campus.

Founded in 1970, the UAM's Faculty of Law is located in the Cantoblanco campus in two modern buildings; one inaugurated in 1994, the other in 2004. The faculty has approximately 4,000 undergraduate and 200 graduate students. The teaching staff is made up of 230 lecturers and professors belonging to one of the faculty's three departments: Private, Social and Economic Law; Public Law and Legal Philosophy; and Political Science and International Relations.

Studies on offer often figure among the best in Spain and the students in all programs have the opportunity to do internships in some of the most prestigious law firms and institutions, both public and private, with whom the Faculty collaborates. Among the teaching staff are members of the country's highest judicial institutions and the Civil Service. Alumni of the Faculty of Law include HRH the Prince of Asturias Felipe de Borbón.

The Faculty actively supports and encourages international mobility. Every year approximately 250 students take part in international mobility programs including both the Erasmus Program and other international study agreements with prestigious universities around the world. We also welcome students from Europe and other continents who wish to study at our Faculty for one semester or one academic year.
